Accredited Professional Coach

Accredited Professional Coach Code of Conduct

Everyone in the BHS has a responsibility to promote high standards of behavior and professional conduct. As a BHS Accredited Professional Coach you are a recognised member of the Society and as such represent the BHS when working in the industry. The BHS prides itself on being a charity dedicated to knowledge, encouraging people and horses to enjoy life together, creating a safe, inclusive and respectful environment for all to enjoy horses and achieve their potential.

As a BHS Accredited Coach you are an important role model. This code of conduct provides a framework and an opportunity to ensure all those working with our Accredited Professional Coach members have a positive and enjoyable experience.

Whether you call yourself a coach, an instructor or a trainer you play a crucial role in the development of the sport and in the lives of the riders, drivers and vaulters that you support. It is you that will ensure that individuals in equestrianism have positive experiences and therefore are more likely to continue in the equestrian activity and achieve their potential.

The BHS Accredited Professional Coach Code of Conduct is built on the principles of integrity, honesty, fair play and respect. These principles are integral, not optional, and apply to all levels of ability and commitment, including recreational participation through to high level competitive equestrian sport, with the welfare of the horse or pony at the centre.

This Code of Conduct sets out standards you are required to meet.

The BEF core values are for all involved in equestrian activity and coaches are asked to demonstrate:

- Performance: That you will strive to be successful in all your endeavours and deliver high standards in every session, lesson, class or workshop.
- Partnership: No coach, instructor, teacher or trainer has all the answers and we ask that you collaborate and find solutions to shared issues and are open and honest at all times.
- Professionalism: That you will remain objective and professional at all times. You act with integrity in an ethical way and treat everyone with respect.
- Passion: You will be passionate in all your endeavours, working with others to the benefit of the rider, driver, vaulters, horse or pony.

Good Practice

- Recognise the importance of fun and enjoyment, especially when working with young participants. Most learning is achieved by doing.
- Show respect to others involved in the sport including judges, official and volunteers, other riders and teams, other coaches, instructors, teachers and trainers, spectators, parents/carers and horse or ponies.
- Promote fair play and high standards of behaviour.
- Place the well-being, safety and enjoyment of your participants, and the horse or pony, above everything, including winning.

- Explain exactly what you expect of the participant and what they can expect from you. Ensure all parents/carers of all participants under the age of 18 understand these expectations.
- Develop mutual trust and respect with every participant to build their self-esteem
- Encourage each participant to accept responsibility for their own behaviours and performance.
- Ensure all activities you organise are appropriate for the participants' ability level, age and maturity and for the capabilities of the horse or pony.
- Ensure appropriate supervision of all participants, especially participants who are younger or more vulnerable.
- Be a positive role-model, consider your behaviour, do not ridicule, or shout at participants or use sarcasm.
- Provide positive verbal feedback in a constructive and encouraging manner to all young participants at all times particularly pre, during and post training sessions and competitions.

Inappropriate behaviour to avoid

- Never engage in, or tolerate, offensive, insulting, demeaning or abusive language or behaviour.
- Never engage in or tolerate any form of bullying, always appropriately challenge bullying behaviour.
- Recognise that young participants under 18 cannot have alcohol whilst under your supervision or attending your event. Participants should not take prescription or non-prescription medicines or drugs whilst under your supervision, without their medical needs firstly being discussed prior to the teaching, instructing or coaching session. (Participants should be aware of FEI and BEF rules related to performance enhancing drugs for humans and equines).
- Recognise that young participants should not be exposed to extremes of heat, cold or unacceptable risk of injury.
- Avoid giving advice of a personal or medical nature unless you are qualified to do so.
- Be aware that your behaviour in your role is subject to scrutiny by others at all times. Ensure that your words and behaviour are not subject to mis-interpretation by the participants, parents/carers or onlookers. The line between a professional working relationship and undue informality is not crossed.

Policies and Procedures

- Be aware of, and abide by, the policies and procedures outlined in the BHS Safeguarding document.

- This includes that no coach, instructor, teacher or trainer should have sexual related contact with a participant, fellow coach, instructor, teacher, trainer or volunteer under the age of 18. To clarify, this includes sexual innuendo, flirting, inappropriate gestures and terms, in person or through social media, texts and emails, taking part in sexting or otherwise sending inappropriate sexual images through technological systems.
- Report any concerns that you may have about a child, young person or vulnerable adult in line with the BHS safeguarding procedure.
- Report any concerns you have about a colleague, volunteer or any adult working with children, young people or vulnerable adults in line with the BHS safeguarding procedure.
- Treat everyone with the same degree of courtesy and respect regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion and belief, sex and/or sexual orientation.
- All accidents must be recorded in line with the requirements of the member bodies and appropriate legislation.
- Adhere to the rules and the spirit of the disciplines and competitions in which your riders participate.

Should you, as an Accredited Professional Coach, contravene any of the stipulations stated in this code of conduct, your professional membership may be revoked.

Guidelines on use of social media and online communications

To protect your privacy and prevent any miscommunication, please be aware of our following guidance on the use of social media and online communication:

- Do not post photos of other people without prior permission
- Be aware that any information uploaded to the internet may remain permanent even if deleted. Ensure the information is appropriate for public viewing and adhere to your organization's policy. This applies to social media sites where you can control your audience. A good rule of thumb is that if you know it would be damaging for you to be quoted or a picture to be used in external media, do not post it online.
- If you wish to communicate with clients, set up a separate professional account through which to do so. Ensure your personal social networks are private.
- You should actively involve parents and/or carers throughout all stages of coaching a young person (under 18) and ensure you have parental consent for all activities. If communicating with a young person, always ensure parents or carers are included.
- Ensure your professional profile remains professional and ensure you are able to approve comments, posts or photos prior to submission.

- Ensure posts are in no way detrimental or call into question the reputation of the BHS or BHS Accredited Professional Coach membership.

Guidelines on equine welfare

You will be required to promote and encourage the highest standards of equine welfare. Alongside safety for the rider, the welfare and well-being of the horse is your priority. You will:

- Recommend that all tack is to have been correctly fitted and be properly maintained by an appropriate professional such as a member of the Society of Master Saddlers;
- Encourage the improvement of riding prior to using corrective equipment. Any equipment used should be with the welfare and comfort of the horse in mind;
- Give coaching appropriate to the fitness level and/or ability of the horse/participant in a safe and suitable working environment;
- Give support and advice as appropriate where you feel improvements could be made to the welfare of the horse;
- Ensure that you refer any owner to a vet or appropriate professional should you suspect the horse is in pain, ill or injured.

Qualifications, distinguishing letters and advertising

As an Accredited Professional Coach you are entitled to use the relevant distinguishing letters after your name:

First Name, Last Name, Accredited Professional Coach

Exceptions:

- Accredited Coaches may display their distinguishing letters on personal and business stationery used for or in connection with the equestrian business(es) with which they are connected.
- An Accredited Coach who is in partnership in an equestrian business with a person who is not an Accredited Professional Coach shall ensure this communication is clear.

An Accredited Coach shall not act or publish any media which could be construed as an official action, statement or publication by the BHS unless acting with the written consent of the BHS. This includes posts made via social media or online.

Advertising by Accredited Coaches in respect of their qualification must be accurate and professional. BHS Accredited Coaches must not display any affiliation with an organisation that falsely implies accreditation by that organisation.

Should you decide to no longer be a member, you must remove any advertising with regards to the BHS, and must not display the distinguishing words.

Violations of the Code of Conduct

Anyone can be removed, without notice, from the Accredited Professional Coach membership if they violate the Code of Conduct or bring the Society into disrepute. Committing a criminal offence other than a parking or minor motoring offence, may result in removal of Accredited Professional Coach status.

The failure of an Accredited Professional Coach to abide by the provision of this code may result in disciplinary proceedings by the BHS. Full details of the disciplinary and appeals procedures and are available from the BHS Education Department and can be found at the BHS Accredited Professional Coach Online Business Support.

This code of conduct is available to members of the public as certification that Accredited Coaches act professionally by adhering to these guidelines.
